OUTLINES.

In Philadelphia yesterday John J. Kean, who was arrested on Monday for kidnapping a seven year old boy, was tried and sentenced to the pesitentiary for 20 years, the trial and conviction having taken place in less than 24 hours after the criminal fell into the clutches of the law.——The Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee voted with the Republicans yesterday in refusing to report Senator Tillman's resolution for investigating contributions by natiosal banks to political campaigns.——The North Carolina Bankers' Association met yesterday at Lake Toxaway, in the mountains of North Carolina, President C. N. Evans, of Wilmington, presiding.——When the meat insvection amendment came up in the House yesterday, Chairman Wadswortr explained the agreement between the President and the Committee on Agriculture; referring to the changes to suit Mr. Roosevelt he said if " it soothes the feelings of certain individuals," he was willing for them to all go in; Democratic Leader Williams declared there had been some muckraking in connection with the bill and defended Chairman Wadsworth (Republican), from reflections on his motives.——The House yesterday with practical unanimity passed the meat inspection amendment agreed upon between President Roosevelt and the House Committee on Agricultural. In the Senate yesterday, Knox, of Pennsylvania, advocated a lock canal on the Isthmus. ——The House yesterday passed a bill authorizing St. Louis to erect a free bridge across the Mississippi River. ——Lawyer Cromwell again defied the Senate Committee yesterday by refusing to answer questions concerning the deal by which he sold the canal to the United States for the Panama Canal Company.——New York market: Money on call steady, 3¼ to 4 per cent., ruling rate 3½, closing bid 3¼, offered at 3½; spot cotton quiet 10.95; flour steady but dull; wheat steady, No. 2 red 94 elevator; corn easy, No. 2, 59¼ elevator; oats steady, mixed 45½; turpentine firm; rosin firm, stained, common to good, $4.05.

Since when did safe-guarding the rights and interests of the people become "radicalism?"

It is reported that agrarian disorders have commenced in Russia again. That probably means that the Russia farmers have laid-bye, speaking in agrarian terms.

A North Carolinian was arrested in Philadelphia a few days ago for having four wives. Of course he is sorry he is in jail, but he would have been safer there if he had been turned in when he got to thinking of taking his second chance in the matrimonial lottery.

The Princess Chimay, who is still stuck on the Hungarian violinist Rigo, now in New York, has sent him a check for $100 and he doesn't know what to do with it. She ought to send it to people who have got their route laid out and can't go the pace for lack of checks.

The population editor of the Charlotte Chronicle has increased the population of Cnarlotte from 18,091 in 1900 to 41,500 up to date. Some of that big crowd that took in the Mecklenburg celebration, May 20th, must have liked the town so well that they concluded to camp right there.

Uncle Joe, if we understand you correctly when you say that "the floor of the House is the place to discuss pending legislation," you mean to say that the floor of the White House is "no fitten place" for a one-sided discussion with no Speaker on hand to rule the gentleman out of order.

The chorus girls of New York have appealed to Immigration Commissioner Watchorn to stop an importation of foreign chorus girls who have been engaged under contract by Director Conreid of the Metropolitan Theatre, contrary to the contract labor law. The foreign chorus girls will be in a tight place if they are held up and sent back.

Says the Winston-Salem Sentinel: "Recently a number of college professors have moved from this State to accept positions in other sections. This kind of thing will continue until those in charge of our institutions of learning make up their minds to pay better salaries to instructors in the different branches." We have to pay the price if we expect to keep genius and learning in our State.

CREW OF THE SWEENEY IS SAFE IN NEW YORK

Captain Fennimore and Eight Men of Ill-fated Schooner Which Went Down Off Cape Fear Bar Last Tuesday Landed Yesterday.

Tidings of the crew of the ill-fated schooner Jennie Sweeney which went to the bottom of the sea five miles off the Cape Fear bar yesterday a week ago have at last been received. After a night on the billowy deep in their small boat, exposed to the severest hardships, after abandoning their vessel and seeing her go to the bottom, they were picked up by the schooner Maggie M. Keough the following day and landed yesterday in New York. The story of their timely rescue and the first authentic account of the loss of the vessel are told in the following Associated Press telegram received last night by the Star:

New York, June 19.—The schooner Maggie M. Keough, Captain Tilton, which arrived here today from Savannah brought into port the crew of the schooner Jennie Sweeney, which struck on the twenty-one foot lump of Frying Pan shoals, off Cape Fear bar, in a heavy northeaster Tuesday, June 12th, and went down two hours later.

The crew of eight took to their boat and, after a night exposed to the severe weather, were picked up by the Maggie M. Keough, Captain Fenimore, of the Jennie Sweeney, said he sailed from Philadelphia for Mayport, Fla., May 29th with a cargo of coal. In the rough sea and misty atmosphere, he lost his bearings. When the schooner struck, finding the vessel badly damaged, Captain Fenimore ran for Smithville, but soon had to abandon the sinking craft. The survivors were picked up the following day. They saved only the clothes they wore.

The Jennie Sweeney was built at Ways Landing, N. J., in 1875, and was owned in Philadelphia. Her tonnage was 574 net register.

THE MARINE HOSPITAL WILL REMAIN HERE

Secretary of Treasury Yesterday Issued Order Retaining the Institution Here With Number of Others—A Decided Victory.

It will be welcome news to the commercial interests of the city and the Wilmington public generally to know that an order was made in Washington yesterday revoking the order for the closing of the Marine Hospital in this city, an institution of time-honored existence at this port and one of great importance to the shipping and maritime interests of all this section of the Atlantic Seaboard.

The original order was received about two weeks ago and since that time the commercial bodies of the city, through Senator Simmons and Congressman Patterson, in Washington, have been quite active in their efforts to get a revocation of the order of Surgeon General Wyman closing the institution on July 1st. The success of their efforts is a notable one and quite a victory for the commercial bodies, the Chamber of Commerce, which carried on its negotiations through President Taylor, and the Merchants' Association, which took action in the premises through President Rogers.

The original order is believed to have resulted from some friction between the Secretary of the Treasury and Surgeon General Wyman and the order re-establishing the hospital, with several others in the South, comes from the first named. The news first reached the city through the medium of private telegrams yesterday and by an Associated Press dispatch last night. The latter is as follows:

Washington, June 19.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued an order re-establshng the Marne Hosptals at Memphis, Tenn., Cairo, Ill., St. Louis, Mo.; Evansville, Ind.; Louisville, Ky.; Wilmington, N. C., and Vineyard Haven, Mass., which were discontinued by an order of the Secretary issued on the 8th. instant. Congress has made provision for the maintenance of the hospitals and the members desire them to be continued.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

Attendance Upon Training Institute Yesterdas Increased to More Than 300.

THE DAY'S PROGRAMME

Number of Interesting Addresses By Leaders of the Movement, Including Rev. N. M. Watson, of Wilmington.

The attendance upon the Sunday School Training Institute at Wrightsville Beach yesterday reached the proportion of between three and four hundred and still others are arriving daily. The interest, too, is all that could be desired and prominent persons identified with the movement speak of it as a success in every particular. Several prominent speakers on the programme have been unable to come, but their places have been filled by others and the Institute in every way is proving a source of much pleasure and profit to all.

The exercises yesterday opened with a half hour's discourse by Dr. Hamill on "Christ's Miracles," followed by the daily drills by Miss North, of Washington, D. C., with lapboard and pad sketching in illustration of the International Sunday School literature. Mrs. Hamill gave a talk on the Primary Lesson—Illustrated. The Teachers' Meeting was the subject of an interesting discourse by Dr. Hamill. The Superintendent and his Class was the subject of a most interesting discourse by Dr. Carre, of Vanderbilt University. Dr. Scherer, of Newberry College, next spoke on "The Friendships of Jesus—Peter." Dr. Scherer is a most interesting and able speaker and his presence has contributed no little to the success of the Institute. "The Teacher Training Class" was most interestingly treated by Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace church, Wilmington. Rev. Mr. Watson is thoroughly identified with the work and is nothing if not practical. He was heard yesterday with a great deal of pleasure by the large number of visitors. "The Problem of Money" was a subject of interest assigned to Hon. J. E. Ellerbee, of South Carolina, but unfortunately he could not be present and the half hour given to that feature of the programme had to be taken by another. To-day the programme will be found quite interesting again. It is as follows:

9:15 A. M.—Christ's Parables and Discourses, by Dr. Hamill.

9:45 A. M.—Daily Drills and Sketching, by Miss North

10:15 A. M.—Primary Mission Study, by Mrs. Hamill.

10:45 A. M.—The Art of Questioning, by Dr. Hamill.

11:15 A. M.—Quiet Hour of Personal Christian Experiences.

11:30 A. M.—Extending the School, by Prof. Carre.

12 Noon—The Friendships of Jesus—Paul, by Dr. Scherer.

4:30 P. M.—Men's Classes, by Mr. W. M. Jones.

5:00 P. M.—The Missionary Sunday, by Dr. Hamill.

The Sunday School workers of the city generally are cordially invited to attend the sessions.

TO HANG IN AUGUST

Adams and Sawyers, Condemned Mutineers, Will Pay Death Penalty on Friday, 17th

THE U. S. COURT YESTERDAY

Re-sentencing of Prisoners a Solemn Scene Before Judge Purnell Yesterday—Both Made Statements —As to Henry Scott.

Blanched and bearded as the result of long and close confinement, the picture of utter despair, Robert Sawyer and Arthur Adams, two of the three condemned mutineers from the schooner Harry A. Berwind whose appeal to the highest court in the land availed them nothing, were brought out of jail yesterday morning and resentenced to be hanged on the seventeenth day of August. The proceeding was in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina, Judge Thos. R. Purnell, of Raleigh, presiding, a special term having been called for the express purpose of observing the formality. The scene of the re-sentencing of the prisoners was naturally one of solemnity and calculated to impress the large number of spectators who had gathered to witness it.

All the court officers were in attendance at the opening of the term—Judge Purnell, District Attorney Harry Skinner, Assistant District Attorney J. A. Giles, United States Marshal Claudius Dockery, U. S. Clerk S. P. Collier, Deputy Marshal Knox and others. The prisoners were brought in shortly before 10 o'clock. It was expected that they would break down at the last but they walked with a steady tread and betrayed only slight nervousness. They were given seats in the prisoner's dock and glanced furtively about them in the court room. It was ten or fifteen minutes before Judge Purnell came in and the tension in the court room during the interim was painful. Upon the official receipt of the mandate of the U. S. Supreme Court, District Attorney Skinner a second time prayed the judgment of the court upon the prisoners. Adams and Sawyer were then asked if they had anything to say why the judgment of the court should not be pronounced upon them. They stood up feebly but apparently were mute. Mr. George Rountree and George L. Peschau, Esq., were present and Mr. Rountree relieved the situation by requesting to be permitted to address the court. He gave a brief and very comprehensive review of the case and the crime, stating that he had not been employed to defend the men until the appeal was taken to the higher court. However, he had given much study to the evidence and the facts bearing upon the matter and believed Adams and Sawyer not guilty. He asked His Honor to give the prisoners as much time as possible to make their peace with God.

When their counsel had spoken, the condemned men were again asked if they had anything to say. Robert Adams arose slowly and betrayed a slight emotion, his voice later ringing more clearly. He said he had nothing to say further than what he said before. He wanted to know if he did wrong in holding Henry Scott. If he

A LIVELY FISTICUFF

Alderman Johnson and Ex-Policeman Guy in an Encounter Yesterday.

STORIES OF THE AFFAIR

Friends Pulled the Men Apart, Not However Before Number of Blows Were Exchanged—Sensation in Municipal Circles.

Growing out of charges preferred by Alderman E. F. Johnson against Policeman M. E. Guy in opposing the election of the last named to a permanent position on the police force of the city at Monday night's special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, a fisticuff ensued between the two men on Dock street, near Mr. Johnson's place of business, yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. The affair was the sensation of the day in municipal circles and was talked about freely on the streets by the people of the city in general.

It appears that Mr. Guy, in company with a riend, drove down on Dock street in a buggy about the hour named and seeing Mr. Johnson on the opposite side of the street, called him over to the buggy and asked what he meant by making charges against him before the Board of Aldermen and accomplishing his defeat. Mr. Johnson says that he replied to Mr. Guy that he did not consider him a proper man for the police force, and as a public official had worked and used his influence against him. Mr. Johnson said he saw Mr. Guy was very much wrougt up and that he turned to go back across the street to his place of business and that as he did so, the former officer caught him in the back of the neck by the collar. As quick as he could, Mr. Johnson says he wrenched loose from his antagonist in order to face him and dealt him a blow in the eye and others about the face. Mr. Guy dealt the Alderman several blows in the face, but they seemed to have glanced as Mr. Johnson's face bore no signs of the conflict. His collar and vest, however, were torn loose and he suffered some from the exertion incident to such a conflict. Officer Guy had a cut under one eye and a bruise or two otherwise.

Only a few blows had been exchanged when the two men seemed to have clinched and it was at this stage of the game that Mr. W. T. Mercer, Mr. D. C. Littleton, Mr. Boesch and others interferred, pulling them apart. Officer Guy is reported to have cursed the Alderman very vilely after the fight, but as soon as the excitement was over, Mr. Johnson, accompanied by Messrs. Mercer and Littleton, went around to Justice Furlong's court and submitted to an assault of which he was adjudged guilty and required to pay the costs. He also had a warrant issued for his antagonist, charging him with an assault, but before Deputy Sheriff Smith could see Mr. Guy, he had given himself up at the police station to Chief Williams and will be given trial before the Mayor at noon to-day.

Mr. Karr, who led the fight for Mr. Guy's election on the Board of Aldermen Monday night, yesterday made a statement to the press stating that while he favored the election of Mr. Guy to the force, believing that he would have made a good officer, he

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Board ot Audit and Finance in Regular Semi-Monthly Session Last Night.

CITY CONTRACTS APPROVED

Chesnut Street Paving Matter Not in Due Form—Concurrence in Some Appropriations By Aldermen, Non-Concurred in Others.

A number of matters of interest, most of which came over from the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen the night before, were considered and acted upon at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Audit and Finance last night. The meeting was held in the office of the City Clerk and Treasurer, the room of the Board being now under repairs and in confusion. Chairman McQueen and all members of the Board were present except Mr. Yates.

The paving of Chesnut street from Front to Water, was first taken up, a plan of the proposed improvement being submitted by City Engineer Matthew with an estimate of the cost which was placed at $2,892, makng the proportion to be paid by property owners $1,410. Mr. Isaac Bear, of Sol Bear & Co., one of the owners at interest, was present and urged that the work be undertaken at once. The Board, however, held that under the new law the plans must be filed in the office of the iCty Clerk and Treasurer for a given period and notice must be given of the City Clerk and Treasurer for a improvement so that any property owners objecting may have an opportunity to be heard, and until the law is complied with, no action can be taken. The City Engineer stated that this matter would be attended to by the proper committee. The City Engineer stated that he believed the average cost of macadam is $1.00 per square yard and that his calculation for the Chesnut street work was based on the difference in the cost of that and the Belgian block proposed to be used.

The award of the contract to Thad. F. Tyler for building a cart shed in the city pound at $290 was concurred in.

The award of the contract to Mr. Tyler for the repair of the Sixth Street bridge over the W. & W. railroad tracks, was not concurred in, the Board being of the opinion that the general law of the State requires railroads to keep in repair and maintain such bridges over their lines. A case recently taken to the Corporation Commission from Durham was quoted as bearing on the case. Alderman J. A. Karr, of the Committee, was present and he was authorized to take the matter up with the Atlantic Coast Line people and reach some agreement.

The general idea of the drainage proposed by the Board of Health and which the City Engineer estimated would cost in the neighborhood of $2,000, was concurred in but the Board made the suggestion that before the work is undertaken that bids be advertised for.

The proposition to re-establish the street lines of the city and place centre stones where needed at a cost estimated at $2,500, was not concurred in. The City Engineer was present

UP TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

In the debate on the Panama canal bill in Congress last week, the Democrats made a strenuous effort to save the taxpayers of this country millions of dollars in the purchase of material for canal construction. That effort consisted in so amending the act as to prevent extortion on the part of the protected trusts who are beneficiaries of the tariff laws and yet have it in their power to make the government pay much higher prices for material than the same can be had in foreign countries. The purpose of the Democrats was not to make business for foreign manufacturers and and contractors but to see that the highly favored people of that class in this country shall not be left in a position to take advantage of the government that coddles and nestles them.

As a matter of course, the Republicans opposed what the Democrats advocated for the protection of the people, who are to foot the enormous expense of constructing the canal. With the usual demagogic plea that material should be purchased in America for the benefit of the working man, the Republicans brushed the Democrats aside, but not until John Sharp Williams and others exposed their hypocrisy by showing that the standpatters were really legislating in favor of their pet trusts and monopolies.

However, the Republicans would not dare pass the canal bill in a shape that would altogether leave the government at the mercy of the protected trusts of this country, for the House on Saturday adopted the Senate resolution as to the purchase of canal material. That resolution provides that the purchases for canal material must be of home manufacture and production, from the lowest responsible bidders, except in the event that the President may consider the bids exextoroitant ETA SHR CMF VBGK tortionate. We haven't any idea that the stand-patters would have made even that much concession for the government (the people) if it had not been for the aggressive Democratic minority. Every Democrat in this country wants the canal material purchased from home manufacturers and producers and there was no idea of going into the foreign markets except in instances to prevent the government from being robbed by the trusts at home.

The resolution as passed by both Houses may throw some safeguard around the purchase of material, but it is up to the President to decide when the prices for material and equipment are extortionate. He is the sole judge, but how is he to do it unless he calls for bids from foreign manufacturers and producers? Except through the consuls or a bureau or commission he would have no other means of ascertaining prices abroad, and if he calls upon foreigners to bid he would not expect them to submit bids merely to enable him to decide whether home prices are extortionate, for the European bidders would naturally expect a square deal if their bids were lowest. Nevertheless, it is believed that if President Roosevelt, with his discretion to consider prices extortionate, is really in a position to protect the interests of the government. He may be too much of a stand-patter to consider higher-priced American material extortionate, but at any rate it is up to him. He can, if he so minds, hold the resolution over the heads of American manufacturers and producers in order to compel them to put in reasonable bids. It is his right to do so and it is hoped that he will consider that it is his duty to scrutinize prices closely and not shut his eyes when they have the appearance of extortion.

There are a good many instances in which the President should compare prices. In the debate in the House last week, the Democrats did not fail to point out some of the discrepances in the price of a good deal of material needed in the construction of the canal. For one instance, attention was called to a statement of Purchasing Agent Ross, of the Canal Commission, that he could get foreign steel rails laid down in Panama for $26.40 a ton, whereas American railways are paying $28 a ton for rails at the steel mills. That shows a difference of $1.60 a ton in favor of foreign rails, not to mention the freight to be added for the transportation of the $28 American rails from here to Panama. It should not be forgotten that steel rail manufacturers in this country are willing to compete in foreign countries with their railmakers, guaranteeing to pay the freight across the ocean and lay down rails as cheap or cheaper than the foreigners can purchase rails in their own countries. As a matter of fact, American rails are sold cheaper in Europe than they are at home, the showing made by the Democrats in the House debate being that the foreigner gets his American rails 25 per cent. lower than the American consumer pays. The President will be compelled to have help, however, if he is to look at the price tags on material for the great Isthmian waterway, but Congress has left it to him to compare prices in any old way he is a mind to.

ECONOMY THAT IS A SHAME.

The annual meetings of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly and State Association of County Superintendents, in Raleigh the past week, were full of interest and vital importance to the cause of education in North Carolina. These gatherings are bound to prove beneficial not only to the teachers and those in charge of our educational system but will be fruitful in awakening action in bettering the work and raising the profession of teaching to a higher plane. The standard is higher than the pay warrants and the State ought to congratulate itself that it gets a great deal for very little.

The Star has several times advocated better pay for the teachers of North Carolina, and therefore heartily endorses the address of President Charles D. McIver, of the State Normal College, delivered at the meeting of the county superintendents. He advocated legislation for the fixing of a minimum salary for county superintendents, and said that the time had come when the salaries of county superintendents must be increased. The average salary is double what it was five years ago, he said, but $500 a year is not sufficient salary for a person who has in his charge the care of from $10,000 to $40,000 worth of property and the inspiration of 50 to 150 school teachers. "North Carolina is not doing its duty to its county superintendents," he declared. "If a county has $30,000 invested in a mill it will not employ a $500 man to supervise it."

Dr. McIver is quite right. The county would know better than to do business like that and it is time to get the educational interest on a practical basis, too. While speaking particularly for the county superintendents, Dr. McIver brought in the collateral subject of better pay for teachers. He said he was sure there was not a man teacher in the State who could not receive twice his present compensation if he would enter a commercial or industrial avovation. Women go to the State Normal and Industrial College and take a year's business course, costing her about $150, and from that investment she obtains a position which pays her $40 or $50 per month, for 12 months, a year. Other women invest $700 or $800 in their education to become teachers, and receive only $35 or $40 per month, for only eight months in a year. The condition is alarming, but can you wonder that the tendency of the women is to enter the business professions, leaving the avocation of the school room?

We will have to quit boasting of our progress in education until we get a better idea of the value of the teachers who are doing the work concerning which we are proud to boast. We must do the square thing by the noble men and women who are giving enlightment and learning to the State. Teachers ought to be paid enough salary to induce them to make teaching a profession instead of a makeshift till they can get better employment. Trained and experienced teachers—professionals—are what we need and the best way to be assured of them is to make educational work interesting to them by salaries that will entertain them a while.

The Legislature could consider no more important matter than that discussed so ably and pointedly by Dr. McIver. We have not given his argument, merely mentioning a few points to concur in what he strongly presented and lucidly set forth.

North Carolina must quit practicing economy on its teachers. It is economy that is a shame.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—While the idea of cleaning up all the trusts is so popular, somebody ought to start on the Soap Trust.—Atlanta Journal.

—It is understood, however, that Pennsylvania railroad employes may still be fired for other offenses than picking up money and gifts that may be flung at them.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Jesse E. James, of Missouri, son of the notorious Jesse James, seems to be of quite a different sort. He has just been admitted to the bar. Outlaw and in law!—New York Commercial.

—Col. W. W. Lumpkin has announced himself as a candidate for United States Senator against Senator Tillman. The Colonel is an excellent gentleman, but he always would have his joke.—Columbia Recoru.

—When Congressman Wadsworth presented his inspection bill the President sniffed as though the odor was bad.—Charleston News and Courier.

—Making due allowance for future possibilities, it appears to be perfectly safe to say that Addicks has passed.—Chicago Tribune.

—The President wishes Congress to know that he has the whip hand in the canal matter. If Congress provides for the construction of a sea level canal he will veto the measure, because he doesn't want that kind. It will, therefore, be a lock canal or nothing. And it must be admitted that the President has very much of the argument in his favor.—Savannah News.

—There is a movement on in London to lock up all anarchists. The English are in some respects a very practical people.—New York World.

—It was inevitable that the President's recent activity in shaping legislation so that it would comport with his idea of what is demanded by public interests should render him liable to criticism in various quarters. The charge is brought against Mr. Roosevelt that in his desire to secure results he has gone much further than he should go with due regard for the of his office. The President, say his of his office. The President, say his critics, should leave to Congress the work of making laws for the country. It is his privilege to recommend to Congress the enactment of such legislation as the public welfare requires. Regardless of the right or wrong of President Roosevelt's attitude, it seems to be very difficult to force a certain kind of legislation through both houses of Congress unless the Executive takes a hand.—Baltimore Sun.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

Raleigh News and Observer: Eastern North Carolina towns are moving forward as well as the larger places. More than one hundred thousand dollars have been handled by the Bank of Winterville since it was established. That's a fine little town, built upon successful factories and a splendid school.

Raleigh News and Observer: The negro, Thomas F. McCoy, yesterday began service as carrier on the rural free delivery route No. 4, out from Raleigh, in the Swift Creek section. This was unexpected, as a letter to Postmaster Bailey last week from Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw stated that the commission of McCoy had been revoked. Telegrams to the News and Observer from Mr. Thomas J. Pence, its Washington correspondent, said this was an error and the going to work of McCoy yesterday proves that there is something wrong in the matter. The order for McCoy to start on the route was received here by Postmaster Bailey in a telegram Saturday night. It was from DeGraw, and he gave orders to start McCoy on the route on Monday, that a letter would follow. McCoy went to work yesterday, but the letter from DeGraw has not yet arrived. The opposition of the people on the route to the negro McCoy is a thing well known, and it had been hoped that the negro would not be put on them, and that Mr. N. E. Lawrence, the substitute carrier, would be retained. But the Republican administration thought differently, and they have forced the negro on the people of the route despite their protests.

Durham Special, June 18: Mrs. Catherine Cordelia Beaman, wife of Rev. Dr. R. C. Beaman, pastor ot Trinity Methodist church, died suddenly this morning at 11:15 o'clock. Her death was caused by rheumatism of the heart. To-morrow morning the remains will be taken to Goldsboro, where are buried several of her children, and interment will take place about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Quite a number will go from here to Goldsboro to accompany the body, among these being several of the official members of the church. Mrs. Beaman was taken ill about a week ago and had been suffering from a mild attack of, malaria and inflammatory rheumatism. Her condition was not such as to cause alarm, however, and nothing serious was anticipated until a few minutes before her death. Less than thirty minutes after a physician left the house she died, almost in an instant. The rheumatism, from which she suffered, had attacked her heart. Before her marriage Mrs. Beaman was Miss Catherine Cordelia Dudley, of Morehead City, daughter of Colonel Elijah Dudley. She was about fifty years of age. Twenty-six years ago, February 25, last, she became the wife of Rev. R. C. Beaman. Of this union there are now living three children: Miss Mary, Miss Catherine and James Southgate Beaman.

A dispatch from Bristol, Tenn., on Monday says: John W. Ashburn, alias J. W. Ash, who was arrested at Lexington, Ky., last week on a sensational charge of bigamy, was brought to Bristol to-day by Deputy Sheriff Riley, and is now in jail here. Ashburn recently married a Miss Davis, of Elk Park, N. C., in Bristol, and went from here to Lexington. He is said to have a wife and family in Virginia. Miss Davis comes from a prominent family at Elk Park, and her father had Ashburn brought back to Bristol and will prosecute him. His last wife, who is a young woman and quite beautiful, accompanied him and the officer back to Bristol and refuses to be separated from him, declaring her intention to live with him. Ashburn claims he thought he had a divorce from his first wife and admits the second marriage.

Durham Special, June 18: Freeman Jones, the negro charged with burglary and attempt to commit criminal assault on Mrs. J. W. Barker, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. E. Owens this morning. He waived examination and was committed to jail without bail. The brutal crime has stirred the people and while there is no probability of any attempt towards taking the life of the negro, the general expression on the streets is in favor of a special term of court and speedy trial for the brute. There is no question about his guilt. He said this morning that he did not know what he did, as he was drunk.

Greensboro Special, June 18: Dr. J. B. Matthews was in the city to-day, coming here from a sanitarium near Baltimore simply to renew his bond of $5,000. This he will be compelled to do every three months. The doctor looks physically, much worse but better mentally. He now looks like a sane man, an appearance he has not had since the killing of his wife. His brother, who was with him, says that it has only been within the last three weeks that he has been able to write a coherent letter. He returned to Baltimore about 2 o'clock.

Charlotte Observer: The Fuller Combing Gin Company has established offices and a temporary plant in Dilworth for the manufacture of the cotton gin on which the company owns the patents. The officers of the company state that the demonstrative work, which has been carried on during the past season, has been so satisfactory and has so impressed all who have invetigated the new principle of ginning cotton, that the necessity for manufacturing the machine on an extensive scale is at once apparent. In all probability the factory will be located at Chattanooga, Tenn., owing to the economic manufacturing conditions existing there, and exceptional facilities for distribution throughout the cotton belt. Chattanooga interests, after investigating the project, have subscribed for a large portion of the stock issued, leaving only a limited amount still to be placed. Many experts who have witnessed the operation of the Fuller gin, notably the delegation of English spinners who recently visited this country for the express purpose of investigating present methods of handling cotton and of suggesting necessary improvements, declared the value of the product of the Fuller gin to be at least two dollars per bale more than if ginned on the saw gin.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside—from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside—

They cure sick kidneys

Here is Wilmington proof that this is so:

R. F. Rowan, clerk with L. W. Davis' Clothing House, residing on Castle street betwen Sixth and Seventh, says "I strained myself lifting a heavy box, and suffered great pain across my back for a long time. I used plasters and liniments but they did me no good. I could hardly stand up straight, my back was so weak. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our newspapers I went to Belamy's drug store and got a box. I felt better the next day and continued using them according to directions and my back regained its old strength. I was simply surprised at the result. I will gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills every time for backache."

FOURTH OF JULY RACES.

Meeting of Yachting Enthusiasts Yesterday—Annual Regatta.

An enthusiastic meeting of owners in the Carolina Yacht Club fleet was held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the office of Commodore J. aVnB. Metts, on Princess street, to discuss plans for the annual fourth of July regatta of the club at Wrightsville Beach. It is proposed to make of the races this year an event of great importance to the patrons of the sport in this city and the indications are that success will crown the efforts of those at the head of the undertaking. At the meeting yesterday nearly all the owners were present and the plans for the regatta were gone over carefully. It is proposed this year to make certain changes in the rules and regulations governing the race so that all classes of yachts will have a chance to win. This is made necessary by the advent of several of the new class boats and the build of some of the other comparatively late arrivals.

At the meeting yesterday a committee composed of Messrs. M. S. Willard, B. H. Bridgers and H. B. Peschau was appointed to revise the rules and regulations and report their findings to the club. This work will be done at once and the prizes, etc., will be announced in a short time.

The owners expected to enter and their craft are as follows: O. N., Capt. Richard Bradley; Sadie, Capt. S. P. Cowan; Eugenia, Capt. George Harriss; Don Julian, Captain W. L. Parsley; Question, Capt. Spencer Nichols; Carolina, Capt. B. H. Bridgers; Emma, Capt. C. W. Worth; Sprite, Capt. H. B. Peschau; Mamie B., Capt., H. L. Fennell; Kayembee, Capt. M. S. Willard; Yonalee, Capt. P. W. Davis; Mabel, Capt. E. A. Metts. and Buttinski, Capt. H. J. McMillan.

FUNERAL OF MRS NORWOOD.

Remains Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon—Funeral Services.

The remains of the late Mrs. Vance Norwood, whose sad death occurred at the hospital a little after Monday midnight after a brief illness with blod poisoning, was conducted at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the manse of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., assisted by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James' parish. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery, the pall-bearers having been, Honorary, Capt. J. R. Williams and Mr. Clayton Giles; active, Messrs. W. F. F. Newton, J. H. Boatwright, Swift M. Boatwright, Benj. Bell, B. B. Jackson and George Harriss.

Mrs. Norwood was held in the highest esteem by a large number of friends and her sad and untimely death was learned of with sorrow by them yesterday. She is survived by her husband, foreman at the office of the Wilmington Messenger, and three children, Vance, Charlie and Marie. The bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of many friends.

BOYS' BRIGADE TO CAMP.

Southport City Council Extends Invitation—Juniors to Masonboro.

The Boys' Brigade, of this city, Col. Walker Taylor, commanding, has received a very cordial invitation to hold its anual encampment again at Southport this year and have accepted the invitation. The date will be decided next Monday night at the regular meeting of the Brigade and will probably be about the last day of June. The Junior Brigade will encamp this year on Masonboro Sound and will be in charge of Mr. Young the manager.

It is earnestly hoped that all employers of members of the Brigade will let them off for this anual outing as it is of incalculable benefit to every one of them and it is only on these encampments that Col. Taylor can get next to the inside natures of the boys and give them counsel that will be of service to them in after days. Col. Taylor is very enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful encampment this year and all employers are earnestly requested to grant the boys the leave they so much desire.

had turned Scott loose he would have lied on him just the same. He had written out of the jail that the other men on the ship should have turned him loose. Continuing he said that if he had taken the vessel into some port, as Scott had proposed, that they would have been caught anyway. He raised his hand and declared before God that it was spotless of human blood; that he had a clear conscience before God and man and never even thought of taking human life. With uplifted hand he dramatically declared his innocence.

Arthur Adams, the more frail of the three men and pitiful indeed to behold, next arose with apparent composure, lifted his eyes to heaven and declared, "I am weak; God is great." The sublime thought inspired by the West India negro's dramatic expression of his abiding confidence in the Great Ruler of the Universe had a marked effect on the large number of spectators who leaned forward to grasp every word. Adams continued his statement with a reiteration of his innocence and a hope that he would be judged at last before God.

When Arthur Adams was through speaking, Robert Sawyer arose again and wanted to speak. Under the circumstances Judge Purnell disregarded the conventionalities of the court and the black man was allowed to speak again. He simply stated that while in the jail he had never expressed sorrow that he had not killed Henry Scott as he was evidently of the opinion the court had learned to his detriment.

Judge Purnell then entered upon the melancholy duty of sentencing the men to die a second time. In doing so he made a touching little address from the bench, appropriate and dignified. He prefaced his remarks by saying that the prisoners had a fair and impartial trial according to law. He told them their case was taken to the highest tribunal in the land, which had declared that the District Court had not erred and it became his duty to pronounce judgment of the law. The crime of which they had been convicted was one of the most brutal and fiendish that ever occurred on the high seas. If they were guilty they deserved the penalty. If they were not guilty, the circumstances gathered around them was such as to prove them guilty on false testimony, and the court could but pray that some means would deliver them from their impending fate. What such means could be, the court did not know and could not pretend to say. The court only offered that prayer from sympathy arising from what they had said as to their innocence. The judgment was then briefly expressed in the following language:

"The judgment of this court is that you be taken to the jail from whence you came and be kept there until Friday, August 17th, 1906, when you shall be hanged by the neck until you are dead and may God have mercy upon your souls."

The prisoners sat down, Sawyer feebly replying to the sentence, "Yes sir." The suspense was over and there was a brief commotion in the court room. Judge Purnell then made two orders relative to the disposition of the bodies of the negroes after their execution. The bodies of all of them are to be turned over to the State University for scientific research in the medical department unless relatives make claim to them within ten days before the execution or in the case of Adamas and Sawyer, who are British subjects, unless their government makes claim to the bodies.

The Execution of Scott.

Henry Scott, the third of the mutineers, was not brought into court at all. Pending the appeal of the other two negroes he has been granted a respite until Friday, July 6th, and on that date unless the unexpected develops, he will be executed in the county jail here. When Adams and Sawyer were taken back to jail after being sentenced yesterday U. S. Marshal Dockery took occasion to inspect the gallows in the jail and found it from a superficial examination all right. He was compelled to return to Raleigh on the early morning train to-day, but will be here again on the 4th of July and will bring with him a linen rope procured from another county. This will be thoroughly tested beforehand and if found satisfactory, it will be used in the hanging of Scott. Only a limited number of persons will be admitted to the hanging and it will be as private as it is possible to make it. Any statement that Scott will have to make as to the other two negroes will be listened to with great interest upon this occasion. Some are inclined to believe that he will make a statement exonerating Adams and Sawyer while others think he will remain firm to the last that all had a hand in the bloody affair on the Berwind in which the captain, mate, engineer, steward and one of the seamen lost their lives in a most brutal manner.

Other Matters in the Court.

While here yesterday Judge Purnell made several orders in equity matters. In the case of the Morton Trust Company against the old Wilmington Street Railway Co., the final report of Special Master Thos. W. Davis was filed and a final discharge was granted him unless objection is filed in 30 days.

The mandate of the Circuit Court of Appeals affirming the decision of the lower court in the case of Tolman and other bondholders against the Commissioners of Onslow county, was received and judgment entered accordingly.

Mr. S. P. Collier was appointed referee to take testimony in the libel of effects of the schooner Myrtle Tunnell by the owners of the steam tug Blanche.

The court adjourned sine die about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and Judge Purnell expected to return to Raleigh last night.

could not countenance his action in the assault upon Mr. Johnson yesterday. He characterized it as an uncalled for attack and in the light as it had come to him, it was a disgraceful act. Mr. Guy was not on the force at the time of his assault, having given up his badge when his successor was elected at Monday night's meeting of the Board.

and urged the necessity of establishing the lines but the Board could not see its way clear to make the expenditure.

The reduction of tax on bill posters was referred back to the Alderman with the suggestion that it was a relative tax and bill distributors were taxed $50, the same as it was proposed to tax bill posters. The sections will probably be equalized and the Board will concur in the reductions.

The appropriation of an additional $600 to the public library proposed to be established in the City Hall, was concurred in.

The contract with Fitzgerald & Co., for paving around the Fourth street market and engine house was concurred in provided the work be done under the supervision of the City Engineer.

Practically all the bids for city supplies for the ensuing fiscal year were approved as awarded by the Aldermen the night before. A communication was read from Mr. Roger Moore, stating that the bid of Roger Moore's Sons & Co., for lime, brick, cement, etc., had been submitted through a mistake and that the firm's signature had been affixed where only the name of Roger Moore should have appeared. The change was allowed and all the bids were accepted except that for terra cotta pipe which the Board decided the city would buy on contract as needed and not subject to breakage.

The bids for feeding the city live stock was not approved, but was referred back for a statement as to the quality and quantity of feed to be furnished. The Board also desired bids for shoeing the mules separate from the other bid.

The usual loan of $40,000 to tide the city over until tax-gathering time, was concurred in, the same to be borrowed in amounts as needed.

Capt. T. D. Meares, the clerk, submitted a statement of the year's expenditures, showing that the city began the new fiscal year with about a clean balance.

The usual bills for current expenses were examined and approved after which the Board adjourned subject to call

JUDICIAL CONVENTION TO-DAY.

Meets at Warsaw To-day—Few Delegates From New Hanover.

The Fifth District Judicial Convention will assemble at Warsaw to-day, and a number of delegates from adjoining counties are here on their way to the gathering. As neither Judge Oliver Allen nor Solicitor Rodolph Duffy have any opposition to their renomination, it is expected that the proceedings of the convention will be of a perfunctory nature and not a large number of delegates will be in attendance. New Hanover will be represented by Brooke G. Emple, Esq., and probably William J. Bellamy, Esq. The delegates will go up on the northbound train this morning and return this evening.

For Interfering With Officer

Deputy Sheriff Smith yesterday in Justice Bornemann's court had the supreme satisfaction of seeing Jane Williams, a colored woman, bound over to the higher court and go to jail in default of bond, which was not furnished until later. Monday afternoon, Officer Smith, on Fourth street, between Church and Castle, arrested a son of the Williams woman for some trivial offence and allowed him the privilege of going in his mother's house to leave a package. Once the boy was inside, the mother denied the officer entrance and assisted the boy in secreting himself in such a way that he was not arrested until later. At the trial yesterday Justice Bornemann held the woman for the higher court and bond was later furnished by Marsden Belamy, Esq.

MARRIED LAST EVENING.

Pretty Ceremony Joins in Marriage Popular Young People of This City.

A quiet but withal a very pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. P. H. Strunck, No. 315 Church street, when Miss Lillian Stemmerman, an attractive young woman of this city, was claimed as a bride by Mr. Hary Z. Clowe, a son of the late R. B. Clowe and a trusted employe in the office of Mr. John R. Kenly, of the Atlantic Coast Line in Wilmington. Only members of the family and a few intimate friends were present, but the ceremony is described as one of the prettiest of the season. The home was very attractively decorated in pink and green and the service of the Lutheran church as spoken by Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, was an impressive one indeed.

The bride wore a traveling suit of old rose taffeta and carried a lovely bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns. The groom wore the conventional black. There were no attendants, the ceremony being very quiet according to the wishes of both the bride and the groom. After the ceremony the couple received the happiest congratulations of many friends and left on the northbound A. C. L. train for Asheville, points in Tennessee and Washington. They will be away about two weeks and returning will make their home at the residence of the groom's mother, on Princess street. They have many friends who wish them a delightful trip and a safe return. A number of very handsome presents were received by the bride and groom.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Mrs. W. P. M. Turner left yesterday morning for Healing Springs, Davidson county, to spend a part of the Summer.

—Services, First Church of Christ, Scientist, this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Odd Fellows' building, second floor. All are invited.

—William Ray, colored, was arrested early yesterday evening by Officer R. L. Truelove, charged with the larceny of a dog badge.

—Dr. J. H. Dreher has been granted a permit to build a six-room dwelling, to cost $700, on Wood, between Fanning and Green streets.

—Fayetteville Observer: "A. Perry's annual mid-summer excursion left to-day with quite a large crowd to enjoy the pleasures of the beach."

—S. A. Schloss is granted a permit to remodel a two-story dwelling on Harnett, between Seventh and Eighth streets, the same to cost $225; H. H Harriss contractor.

—The scores in the Lumina bowling contest up to last midnight were as follows: C. R. Brinkley, 194; R. C. Orr, 189; J. McRee Hatch, 177; R. G. Stokley, 163 and L. M. Austin, 156.

—By deed filed for record yesterday, George W. Trask and wife transferred to Kate F. Curtis, of Lincolnton, N. C., for $105, property on west side of Sixth, 165 south of Meares street, 33x150 feet in size.

—In the police court yesterday the case against Callie Smith, colored, charged with running a disorderly house, was continued until Friday for State's witnesses. The defendant is represented by Brooke G. Emple and Woodus Kellum, Esqs.

—The ladies of Masonboro church will give an entertainment in the school house this evening for the benefit of the organ fund. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock. An admission of ten cents will be charged. A pleasant evening is in store for all who attend.

—Fayetteville Observer: "The Victory Manufacturing Company has broken ground for the construction of its large cotton mill on the Peace's vineyard site. A large force of hands is engaged to-day in putting in the railroad siding, and in a few days material will be on the ground and the work of building will begin in earnest."

—The Market Street Giants Baseball Team of the City League gave a delightful excursion on the steamer Wilmington last night and many of the friends of the organization enjoyed the affair with them. Music, dancing and refreshments were provided by the brawny young knights of the diamond, who wish to thank everyone who assisted them with the success of the event and Capt. Harper, who was so courteous and considerate.

—Ella Nixon, colored, was bound over to Superior Court yesterday by Justice Furlong on a charge of an assault with a knife upon Mary Davis, another colored woman, on the excursion to Carolina Beach by the colored people Monday night. The affair occurred on the train coming over to the beach pier and the woman was arrested by Officers W. H. Cox and W. B. Savage. She was also charged with a nuisance, and failing to give bond was placed in jail for the July term of court.

The Police Court Yesterday.

There were no cases of interest in the police court yesterday. Henderson Hayes, the habitual offender who had been taxed with the costs the day before and been farmed out to Sergeant Burnett, got drunk again before he reached Sergeant Burnett's place and was catred back to the police station. Yesterday Henderson admitted there yas no use of going through with the formality of another trial, and said he would go on out to Sergeant Burnett's farm and work out any amount the Mayor thought he ought to pay. Henderson had been on good behavior for two or three weeks before this last compound offence.

PACKING HOUSE INSPECTION BILL

"We must, under the rules of the House, vote this proposed legislation up just as it comes to us nursed by the Speaker and the President and approved by the committee, because the Committee on Agriculture could not well do anything except approve after these two great ruling authorities had spoken; we must vote it up or vote it down. There has been some thundering in the index at the other end of the line that was not followed up, but we must remember, Mr. Speaker, you and I, even you much more than I, that men o iron, like other products of iron, are subject to expansion and contraction by the effect of the weather (Applause and laughter.). As a broad general principle, Mr. Speaker, all sanitary legislation ought to be paid for by the public. The reason for that rule is taht nobody is as a rule responsible for unsanitary conditions.

"Now I wish to add this: There has been some muck raking that has been going on in connection with this matter and I want to pay my individual tribute to a member of this House. I think that in this particular legislation he has been mistaken, and especially upon the point of not making the evil doers pay for curing the evil condition brought about by some muck-raking in which there has some muckraking in which there has been disposition to charge all sorts of wrong motives upon the gentleman from New York (Mr. Wadsworth), the chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. I served with him for eight or ten years upon a committee of this House. I have known him to cast more votes against his own interest than any man in this House (applause). He is a worthy son of a noble sire (applause) and an honest man if God makes honest men (applause), and I believe he does. If the abbreviated disturbance between the two gentlemen from New York had come off, my reasoning would have been with the other gentlemen from New York, but my affections and feelings would have been with this gentleman from New York (applause). I think we have had entirely too much anyhow, too much tolerance for the idea that whenever men honestly differ about a public measure, their motives are to be impugned and their integrity to be attacked." (Applause.)

Mr. Wadsworth's motion to send the bill to conference was agreed to with the single dissenting vote of Mr. De-Armond. The Speaker appointed as conferees Mr. Wadsworth, Mr. Scott and Mr. Lever, of South Carolina.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, interposed a vigorous protest at the last appointment, the chair having passed over Messrs. Lamb, of Virginia, and Bowie, of Alabama, both being opposed to the committee amendment while Mr. Lever favored it. Mr. Williams said it was a slap in the face" of Mr. Lamb and he protested. A vigorous conference was held at the desk between the Speaker, Mr. Williams and Mr. Wadsworth.

The Speaker withdrew the conferees temporarily, but later re-appointed Messrs. Wadsworth and Scott and substituted Mr. Lamb for Mr. Lever, the latter having asked to be excused.

When the bill was returned to the Senate, Senator Proctor chairman of the Committee on Agriculture asked that the meat inspection amendment be printed, and that the bill lay on the table.

Leather and Shoes.

The leather that makes the most comfortable shoes and the most lasting as well is the old fashioned tan bark cow leather, greased good and hard every Saturday with tallow fat. Oil is the life of leather, and a shoe should be oiled at least twice a month, as it readily evaporates. The man who walks a great deal should change his shoes every other day if he can afford it, and he should make some sacrifice to do it, as the benefit to his feet will be immeasurable. Shoes should fit the feet well and snugly. The feet should be the last part of a man's anatomy to tire from walking, and they won't if the proper care is taken of them.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

A Gigantic Spanish Palace.

The "eighth wonder," as it is usually called, is the gigantic palace of the Escurial, which stands in the ancient kingdom of Toledo, Spain. It is confessedly the most wonderful edifice in the world, whether in dimensions or riches. It has 1,860 rooms, 6,200 windows and doors, 80 staircases, 73 fountains, 48 wine cellars, 8 organs and 51 bells. Its circumference is 2,800 feet, or almost exactly a half mile. It was dedicated to St. Lorenzo, the saint who is said to have been broiled on a gridiron, and on that account its foundations were laid off in imitation of the shape of that kind of a piece of kitchen utensil.

Silhouette.

Silhouette was the name of a French minister who endeavored to raise the revenues by taxing the nobility. In consequence he became very unpopular, and, the fashion of profiles in black coming in about the same time, they were called in derision silhouettes, the nobility claiming that they had their portraits done in black because they were too poor to have a full picture taken.

THRILLING TRIP IN AIR SHIP

Navigators Up Fourteen Hours, Reach Height of Two Miles—Sailed 350 Miles Over Mountain.

New York, June 19.—After spending the whole night in the air, Dr. Julian P. Thomas and Charles Levee, who sailed from the foot of East 138th street yesterday afternoon in the big balloon Nirvana, landed safely at 8:30 o'clock this morning at South New Berlin, N. Y. The trip occupied fourteen hours. The place where the balloon landed is 212 miles from New York by rail, but the balloon went a round about way and actually traversed 350 miles.

Dr. Thomas was unable to communicate news of his safe arrival until about 2:30 P. M. He called up his wife on the long-distance telephone and announced his safe landing at South New Berlin. Mrs. Thomas, who was much concerned about the safety of her husband, was greatly relieved when she heard from him.

From what Dr. Thomas said of his trip it was thrilling in the extreme. All night long the aeronauts as they were blown to the northward were in the midst of a brilliant electric storm. Dr. Thomas said the experience was one he will never forget. There was an element of danger about it that added to the interest, but Mr. Levee assured him that they were as safe in the air as in trying to get to the ground, and they remained up until observation showed them a safe landing place.

At times the balloon attained an altitude of two miles. Long distances were covered at an altitude of 8,000 feet. During the night the aeronauts passed over the mountain ranges of Northern New Jersey and Southern New York, going over the Catskills at their greatest altitude.

Dr. Thomas and Mr. Levee ascended from the foot of East 138th street at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Two hours later they hailed pedestrians on the streets foLittle Falls, N. J., four miles out of Patterson, and asked that news of their whereabouts be telephoned to New York. Then they threw out ballast for an all-night ride and started northward in the storm.

Dr. Thomas and Mr. Levee on landing had their balloon and car packed for shipment to New York. They accompanied it and arrived in New York to-night.

Death From Lockjaw

never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Rensselaersville, N. Big Excursion to Raleigh June 25th

Thomas H. Knight, the manager of popular excursions, will run an excursion to Raleigh, via the fast and elegant Atlantic Coast Line, on Monday June 25th. This is the excursion treat of the year, and will be the only excursion to our beautiful Capital City this year. Raleigh is a city of great historic interest, presenting at every turn views of the picturesque, the beautiful and the grand, sufficient for the gratification of every taste. An excursion to Raleigh is always looked forward to with eager anticipation and remembered with sincere pleasure. Tickets good for one day will be $1.75 good to return on special train leaving Raleigh same night at 12 o'clock.

Tickets for two days $2.25, good on any regular Southern Railway train leaving Raleigh on Tuesday, June 26th. If you are going on an excursion, go somewhere. This is an opportunity that will not be repeated soon.

There will be separate cars for white and colored people. Passengers will be taken on at all stations South of Goldsboro.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, June 19.—Continued liquidation by July longs was the feature to-day in the cotton market, which ruled very nervous and unsettled. The close was barely steady and net unchanged to 23 points lower: March being the only month showing no loss. Sales for the day were estimated at 350,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 5 points, which was hardly a full response to the cables and reflected possibly a private crop report issued late yesterday, claiming deterioration of 10.6 per cent. for the last half month together with the expectation of a bullish weekly bureau report at midday. There was some buying for a turn at the opening and the market showed a disposition to do a little better on covering of new crop shorts, but soon weakened under a renewal of July liquidation and sold off to a net decline of about 5 to 13 points. The weekly weather report stated that the drouthy conditions in the Southwest were becoming serious and mentioned the excess of precipitation in the Eastern belt, but the rally following was a matter of nearly 3 or 4 points and the market later broke to a new low level for the day, with July selling some 3 to 4 points under October 23 points down from last night and over a cent below the high level touched on May 17. The close was at just about the lowest point on the active months, and these positions showed losses ranging from 9 to 23 points.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 7,546 bales against 5,169 last week and 14,440 last year. For the week 30,000 bales, estimated, against 29,470 last week and 78,057 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 2,118 against 2,294 last year and at Houston 3,171 against 2,869 last year.

New York, June 19.—Cotton—Spot closed quiet 15 points down; middling uplands 10.95; middling gulf 11.20; sales 53 bales.

Charleston, June 19.—Turpentine and rosin nothing doing.

Origin of the Name "Puss."

A great many years ago the people of Egypt, who had many idols, worshiped the cat, among others. They thought she was like the moon because she was more active at night and because her eyes changed like the moon, which is sometimes full and at other times only a light crescent, or, as we say, a half moon. Did you ever notice pussy's eyes change? So they made an idol of a cat's head and named it Pasht. The same name they gave to the moon, for the word means the face of the moon. The word has been changed to "Pas" and "Pus" and has come at last to be "puss," the name the most of us give to the cat. Puss and pussy cat are pet names of kitty anywhere now. Who ever thinks of the name as given to her thousands of years ago and the people who then bowed down and prayed to her?

The Mystery of Electricity.

By use of the word "electricity" we express a phenomenon which is only known through its manifestations. Sometimes it is spoken of as "electric fluid," but that it is not a fluid in the true sense of that word is well known to all scientists. The word "electricity" is also used to name the science which treats of the power and other characteristics of the "unseen force." Electric force when in a state of rest is called statical electricity; when in motion, dynamical electricity. This wonderful and mysterious force may be brought into action by heat, friction and other agencies, but what it is and whence the source of supply "no man knoweth."

French Conceit.

Etienne Dumont, writing in the early part of the last century, said: "The prevailing character of the French is that of conceit. Every member of the assembly considered himself capable of undertaking everything. I often said that if you proposed to the first hundred men you met in the streets of Paris and to the same number in the streets of London to undertake the charge of the government ninety-nine of them would accept in Paris and ninety-nine would refuse in London."

JACKSON'S FANCY.

The General Liked Him Better Than a Spirited Horse.

"Stonewall" Jackson was as picturesque in the saddle as he was on foot, says the Washington Star. The grim old Presbyterian elder had ridden in his youth in West Virginia in races for an uncle, of which act in later years he was not proud. At the beginning of the civil war or thereabouts some of his admirers presented him with a war charger suitable for a man of growing fame and bright military future. He had been riding up to that date a rather undersized sorrel gelding of very meek appearance, which was one of a carload captured by his command at some point on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and consigned to Washington. This particular animal the general gave the name of Fancy, although from all accounts of Confederate soldiers it fell far short of the title in equine attributes, except in one respect—he had a fancy whenever the command halted for lying down and rolling like a dog. What the general liked most about him, aside from his quiet manners, was his gait, which he himself described as being as "easy as a cradle." Evidently the animal was of the hobby horse species.

The mount selected for Jackson was quite another animal in blood, disposition and spirit. On a certain review the general, dressed in a new uniform in place of the dingy gray he had long worn, appeared on the field mounted on his blooded charger, but when the band struck up "Hail to the Chief" and his men burst into loud cheers the horse bolted, threw "Old Jack" and trailed the new uniform in the dust. Fancy was never thereafter displaced in his affectionate esteem. He rode him in his valley and peninsular campaigns and was on his back on the evening of May 2, 1863, at Chancellorsville when he received the wound which resulted in his untimely death. For a long time Fancy was lost after the above event, but was finally found by a Confederate soldier and subsequently given a home in the family of Jackson's father-in-law, Dr. Morrison, Lincoln county, N. C. Fancy lived to a most extraordinary age, dying in 1888. His skin was prepared by an expert attached to the Smithsonian institution and is at the Confederate Soldiers' home, Richmond, Va.

Miserly.

The cook was giving the new housemaid her impressions of their employers. "You'll find them just about the meanest people alive," she said, with conviction. "Regular misers; that's what they are. 'You must be economical!' That's always the cry here. Why, do you know, it isn't more than two days since I see the master and missus both playing on the same piano at the same time! What do you think of that, now?"—London Tribune.

TWELVE MILLIONS FOR SAN FRANCISCO

Plan by Which Government Will Keep Big Deposit of Treasury Funds With Frisco Banks—City Bonds as Security.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—A tacit agreement was reached to-day by the President, Secretary Shaw and the delegation of representative citizens of San Francisco by which substantial aid will be given San Francisco by the government. It is proposed that the United States treasury deposit with the San Francisco bank $12,000,000 of government money with bonds of the city as security for the deposit, the money to remain with the banks until such time as the government shall call for it. This may not be for a number of years, so that the banks have practical assurance that they may retain the deposit for such a period as will be of value in the reconstruction of the city.

Under the law the Secretary of the Treasury has authority to deposit government funds in this way. He cannot, of course, bind his successor to leave the money on deposit, but he, himself, may leave it there until it is needed by the government. It is proposed in California to organize a corporation with a capital of several millions of dollars, composed of prominent and influential men throughout the State of California and other States, and to issue bonds to guarantee the government against loss through the banks.

Senator Knox Advocates Lock Canal on Isthmus—House Passes Bill for Free Bridge Over Mississippi River at St. Louis.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—Senator Knox addressed the Senate at length to-day in support of the lock idea for the Panama Canal, contending that in point of feasibility and economy it is far superior to the sea level canal. He took direct issue with Senator Kittredge as to the safety of the Gatun dam.

The agricultural bill containing the meat inspection provision was received from the House and the House substitute ordered printed for the information of the Senate. The Senate ordered another conference on the naval bill.

The House.

Washington, June 19.—With practical unanimity the House to-day adopted the substitute amendment for the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill relating to meat inspection, the objectionable features of former amendments being eliminated and the amendment perfected to meet the wishes of the President.

The bill was sent to conference, the conferees being Mr. Wadsworth, of New York; Mr. Scott, of Kansas, and Mr. Lamb, of Virginia. Bills under suspension of the rules were then passed. Among the more important were the bills in relation to the immunity of witnesses in government cases; to establish the standard of value and to provide for a coinage system in the Philippine Islands; and granting the right to the city of St. Louis to erect a free bridge across the Mississippi River at that point.

Through the efforts of Mr. Champ Clark, of Missouri, and Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the bill known as the subsidiary silver coinage measure failed of passage.

NORTH CAROLINA BANKERS.

President Evans, of Wilmingtonfi Presiding at Lake Toxaway Meeting.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Asheville, N. C., June 19.—The tenth annual convention of the North Carolina Bankers' Association was opened at Toxaway Inn, Lake Toxaway, this evening. The meeting was called to order by President C. N. Evans, of Wilmington. The address of welcome was delivered by Hon. Welch Galloway, of Brevard, and the response by George Stevens, of Charlotte. To-night's session was preliminary to the two days' session to follow.

Several well known speakers will deliver addresses to-morrow.

President Burrows, of the hotel company, will tender the delegates a naptha launch party on Lake Toxaway and to-morrow evening will give a complimentary banquet, to be followed by a ball. Several hundred delegates are in attendance.

SILVER QUESTION IN THE HOUSE

Democrats Fight Bill to Make Small Coins Out of Abraded Dollars.

WILL CONTRACT CURRENCY

Champ Clark Stood Up for the Silver Dollar and Bill Was Defeated—Racy Running Debate Over Question.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—Decided opposition arose in the House over the bill providing for the re-coinage of abraded and uncurrent silver dollars into subsidiary coin, reports from the Southern and Western States insisting that the bill meant the contraction of the silver in circulation.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, led the fight against the bill on the ground that it was a scheme to contract the currency. The bill provides that not more than five millions of abraded uncurrent silver dollars may be coined into dimes, qquarters and halves. This, Mr. Clark said, meant eventually the complete retirement of the silver dollar.

Mr. McCleary, of Minnesota, asked Mr. Clark if after having purchased an article costing a dollar and he gave the store-keeper a twenty dollar silver certificate, receiving in exchange 19 silver dollars, whether he would not make a loud "kick."

"No sir," replied Mr. Clark, "I'd take it so quick it would make his head swim. I would take everything they would hand out."

Mr. Clark continuing his objection to the bill said the people of the West wanted their silver dollars and that the assertion that the people were opposed to lugging about silver dollars was untrue, that he had lugged about between 60 and 70 silver dollars and was glad to do it.

Mr. Southard, of Ohio, in charge of the bill, insisted that two propositions were before Congress, either to purchase bullion for the coinage of fractional currency or else use the abbraded silver dollars that were withdrawn from circulation on account of abrasion.

Mr. Clark said if he was Secretary of the Treasury he would have all the silver dollars piled up in the Treasury vaults in circulation, a statement which the Democrats loudly applauded. Two-thirds not having voted for the bill it failed of passage. The vote stood 115 to 90.

PLOT TO KILL ROOSEVELT.

Den of Eighty Anarchists Discovered in Portland.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Portland, Ore., June 19.—Acting from instructions from Washington, Inspector Foster, of the United States Secret Service, is investigating the alleged anarchistic society which has been unearthed here. Last night he seized pamphlets, printed in Polish, which were found at the headquarters of the society.

Statements made by Walter S. Zalaszkiwoz, formerly president of the Polish National Society, seems to confirm a recent report that this city harbors anarchists who contemplate velt Zalszlwoz's statements were the assassination of President Roosemade to the police while he was securing warrants for several members of his society whom he alleges, attacked and beat him Sunday night for objecting to an alleged misuse of the society's funds. Zalaszlwoz states that there are about eighty anarchists in the city and that they held regular meetings at places northeast of Portland.

SWIFT JUSTICE FOR KIDNAPPER

John J. Kean, Who Abducted Philadelphia Boy, Pleaded Guilty of Charge.

SENTENCE IS TWENTY YEARS

Doors of Penitentiary Closed Behind Him in Less Tran Twenty-four Hours After His Capture—Object of Abject Misery.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Philadelphia, June 19.—Twenty years of hard labor in solitary confinement in the Eastern Penitentiary was the sentence pronounced to-day on John Joseph Kean, the abductor of little Freddie Muth. The enormity of the man's crime, which has aroused the whole city, stirred the officers of the law to quick action, and the swiftness with which justice moved has never been equalled in this community. Kean fell into the clutches of the law yesterday afternoon about the time the courts were closisg. Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning he was photographed asd measured by the Bertillion method. Twenty-five minutes later he had been arraigned before Magistrate Eisenbroom and committed to court without bail. The grand jury quickly found a true bill and at 11:20 A. M., he was in the Criminal Court awaiting his turn to face Judge Sulzerberger. Shortly after 12 o'clock the judge passed sentence upon him, and at 1:30 the great iron doors of the penitentiary closed behind him.

In his quick trip from liberty to the solitude of Cherry Hill, the institution which Dickens made famous in his American notes by condemning its system of solitary confinement, no friendly hand or voice was raised in the prisoner's behalf.

If he behaves himself his sentence, under the law, will be reduced to 12 years and three months. The court had the power to give him a life sentence.

When Kean was taken before Judge Sulzerberger he requested that he be allowed to make a statement. He said there were mitigating circumstances in connection with the kidnapping, but the Judge told the prisoner he must either plead guilty or not guilty. Kean then pleaded guilty. Three witnesses, the two special policemen who made the arrest, and the proprietor of the eating house who had seen Kean and the lad together, then gave testimony before the Judge. No jury was chosen.

Freddie Muth was brought to the court room by his father. He was a different boy from the child who was found dirty and hungry in the unoccupied house after a week's enforced absence from home. He was attired in a neat blue flannel sailor suit and a pink rose was pinned to his lapel Mr. Muth said the child was none the worse for his experience. In strong contrast was the appearance of the abductor. After a sleepless night in the cell, he was haggard and wan. His eyes shifted nervously and his whole frame trembled visibly. He still seemed to fear bodily injury and eyed the spectators suspiciously. The police say he paced the cell all night, sobbing and moaning, his wife and children being uppermost in his mind.

When he was placed in the dock, Kean nodded to Freddie Muth, who sat beside his father, and the boy smiled. Pointing to Kean, the little fellow said: "There he is, papa, see."

Kean appeared to exert a strange influence over the child who showed a feeling akin to friendship for the man.

Much sympathy is expressed for the wife and three children Kean leaves without means of support. Mrs. Kean is prostrated by the shock and disgrace that the abduction has brought upon the family. She will break up her home here and remove to New York, where she has relatives.

PACKING HOUSE INSPECTION BILL

House of Representatives With Unanimity Passes Compromise Measure.

SENATE NOW HAS IT IN HANR

John Sharp Williams Defends Republican Chairman of Agricultural Committee—Chairman Wadsworth Makes Few Flings.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—"I move to suspend the rules, discharge the Committee of the Whole House on the State of Union from the consideration of the Senate amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill, disagree to all the amendments except No. 29 (the meat inspection amendment), to concur in amendment recommended by the Committee on Agriculture, and ask for a conference with the Senate on the disagreeing votes."

Interest was shown in every part of the House to-day when Mr. Wadsworth made the above motion.

The reading of the meat inspection amendment was begun, nearly every member present following the reading, with bill in hand.

Mr. Wadsworth in explaining the changes made in the substitute said that the changes were mostly in verbiage and then took them up seriatim. He called attention to the elimination of the court review clause and date of inspection.

Mr. Wadsworth then facetiously took up the small changes in the verbiage inadvertantly saying, "they inserted" in one or two cases, but amid laughter, changing the statement to "we inserted." "If it soothes the feelings of certain individuals I am perfectly willing that they shall all go in," said he. He explained that the civil service clause was put in the original house bill to expedite the work but it went out because it was not thought necessary. Continuing Mr. Wadsworth said:

"The paragraph in the original Senate amendment made the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture mendatory and final. That clearly was unwise and unjudicious if not unconstitutional, and the committee, in order to make matters entirely fair and just, inserted in the bill a clause giving the right to the courts, which the ablest lawyers on the floor claimed is granted under the constitution and the existing general laws. Therefore, I say, the clause was eliminated and the packers and slaughterers in Chicago, if they consider any of the rights of their property are injured in any way by the operations of this law, can invoke the jurisdiction of a United States Judge in Chicago, and I know of no difference between the honesty and integrity of a United States Judge in Chicago and the honesty and integrity of a United States Judge in St. Louis, Kansas City, Fort Worth, St. Joe or any other place where these slaughtering and canning establishments are located. (Applause) "In conclusion I want to assure the House on behalf of the Committee on Agriculture that the provisions of this bill will insure the public a rigid meat and food inspection law." (Applause.)

Mr. Lamb, of Virginia, the ranking member of the minority on the Agricultural Committee, insisted that the bill was defective in that the government was obliged to pay the cost of inspection. It was his opinion that the cost should be borne by the packers.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, enlivened the debate by calling attention to the differences of opinion between two sons of New York (The President and Mr. Wadsworth). "Now is the winter of our discontent been made a glorious Summer by this son of New York," said Mr. Williams,

LAWYER CROMWELL REFUSES TO ANSWER

He Engineered Panama Deal and Again Defies Senate Committee Investigating Waterway—Something He Wants to Keep Dark.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—In defiance of the order of the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic canals that he answer certain questions propounded to him in the investigation of Isthmian canal affairs, William Nelson Cromwell repeated his refusals to-day. He stated that the questions involved confidential relations with his client, the new Panama Canal Company.

The questions were read to him by Senator Morgan, and when the first one was asked, which concerned the first work he did for the Panama Canal Company in America the witness calmly took from his pocket a prepared statement which he proceeded to read. He stated that his knowledge of the subject under discussion was derived in the course of his professional employment, and that he must decline to disclose the interests of his employer concerning any private business matters. In refusing he said he did so with the profoundest respect for the Committee.

After going over the previous record at some length in order to give the witness another opportunity to answer, the Committee adjourned until next Tuesday, without having concluded the record.

The general impression is that the question of Mr. Cromwell's recalcitrancy will not be concluded by the Committee in time to certify the case to the courts during this session of Congress, in the event it is decided to carry the case that far.

CLAIM OF IMMUNITY TO BE REGULATED

Escape of Chicago Packers Leads Congress to Legislate as to Question—Only Individual Witnesses and Not Corporations Immune.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, June 19.—The recent failure to convict the beef packers in Chicago of conspiracy under the Inter-state Commerce law, because of the claim of immunity set up by them and sustained by the Court, has given Congress no end of anxious moments with a view of enacting some law that will remedy the defects from which the government suffered by reason of Judge Humphreys' decision.

The Senate passed a bill on the subject which the House to-day also passed, inserting an entire new bill atfer the enacting clause. It will now go to conerence. Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, in charge of the bill, explained the provisions of the House measure. Mr. Littlefield said:

"The House bill provides that immunity shall be granted only to natural persons who testify on oath in some proceeding authorized by the statutes or in obedience to a subpoena to produce evidence documentary or otherwise and establishes a definite legal standard by virtue of which it can be determined by a public record when and to whom immunity has been granted. It also confines immunity to witnesses on the present government cases. Under it the government will know when it is conferring immunity in its investigaton and the witness will know just when he is protected in making an incriminatin g statement."

MYSTERIOUS FIND IN NEW YORK

Strange Discovery in Connection With Murder of Alice Kinan.

SECRET CLOSET AND ROOM

Two Daggers Hid Away in Closet and Room Filled With Silverware, Clothing and Bric-a-Brac, Trunks of New Goods.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

New York, June 19.—A secret closet containing two daggers, and a secret room filled with silverware, clothing, bric-a-brac, etc., were the latest and most startling discoveries made by the police to-day at the old Stenton homestead in the Bronx where Mrs. Alice Kinan was clubbed to death on June 8.

The secret apartment containing a chest of silver and a miscellaneous assortment of clothing is directly behind a room that was occupied by Mrs. Kinan.

The only opening is a door made to resemble a false window, which was covered by a bureau. The plate found by the searchers is said to be worth about $1,000. No arrest has yet been made. The searchers came across five trunks in another of the up stairs rooms in the house. These trunks were filled with new goods, the tags on which bore the names of half a dozen of the big department stores. Included in the contents of the trunks were new toilet sets, some of silver and some of ivory and all costly and all encased in handsome plush covered boxes, pocket knives, expensive hand bags, high-class stationery, costly table linen, carpenters' tools, dress goods in bolts, expensive hand mirrors, etc., all representing a value of many hundreds of dollars.

FLUNKED ON MR. TILLMAN.

Democrats Join Republicans in Refusing to Investigate Campaign Contributions.

Washington, June 19.—Democratic members of the Senate Committee on Finance united with the Republican members to-day in opposing action on Senator Tillman's resolution requesting the committee to inquire into the questions of campaign contributions by national banks, the Walsh failures in Chicago and the action of certain Ohio banks in paying county treasurers for deposits of county funds. The minority members of the committee declared that they were in favor of the passage of the bill passed by the Senate and now pending in the House, prohibiting national banks from making contributions to political campaign committees. If this bill becomes a law, they argued that there could be no good purpose served in entering upon an investigation such as is contemplated by the resolution.

POPULACE REALLY FRANTIC

Seven St. Petersburg Papers Confiscated for Publishing Particulars of Horror at Bialystok—Troops and Police Participated.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

London, June 19.—The Jewish World has received the following dispatch from Divinskp, also known as Duanaburg), province of Vitebsk, 11 miles southeast of Riga, dated June 18:

"Fifty persons have been killed in the anti-Jewish rioting at Starosielsce not far from Bialystok. The state of mind of the populace is indescribable."

The Bialystok Horror.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—M. Winaver, a member of the Tower House to-day received the following dispatch from M. Jacobsen, a member of the commission sent to Bialystok by the lower house of Parliament to investigate the Jewish massacre there:

"Order was restored yesterday. Seventy-eight Jews and six Christians have been buried. The majority of the dead were killed with bayonets or rifle bullets. The total of the dead has not yet been established. A Cossack yesterday killed a passing Jew. The city council has unanimously declared that the massacre was not the result of race hatred, but was due to provocation and the troops and police participated in the outrages. The reports that Jews and revolutionists attacked the inhabitants are false."

Seven St. Petersburg newspapers besides the Gulos, were confiscated to-day, two for their vigorous comment on the attitude of the authorities at Bialystok and the others for long descriptive stories of the outrages from correspondents.
